

White House Touts Solar Initiative as Congress Continues Its Busy Summer

July 15, 2015 | Blog | By David Leiter

---

VIEWPOINT TOPICS

- Sustainable Energy & Infrastructure

---

RELATED PRACTICES

---

RELATED INDUSTRIES

Congress is hard at work leading up to the August recess, with major focuses that include No Child Left Behind reform, tax extenders, and broad energy packages. At the White House, the Obama Administration celebrated more than $520 million in private and state funding to advance community solar power and increase low- and moderate-income household solar use. For the full rundown, read this week's update from ML Strategies

Authors

David Leiter