

Law360's 2021 Employment Editorial Advisory Board

Law360 (March 29, 2021, 6:37 PM EDT) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2021 Employment Editorial Advisory Board.

The editorial advisory board provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of Law360's 2021 Employment Editorial Advisory Board are:

Rebecca L. Baker, Bracewell LLP

Rebecca Baker, Bracewell's labor and employment practice chair, counsels and represents employers in all aspects of the employment relationship. Her experience includes matters involving wrongful termination, discrimination, harassment, retaliation, whistleblower protection, wage and hour issues, employment and noncompetition agreements, occupational safety and health, and labor and employment issues implicated in business transactions.

LaKeisha M.A. Caton, Pryor Cashman LLP

LaKeisha M.A. Caton is a member of Pryor Cashman's labor and employment and litigation groups and combines a comprehensive litigation background with a focus on employment-related matters. Caton brings significant experience representing both management and high-level executives on a wide range of issues that arise throughout the employment relationship.

Paul DeCamp, Epstein Becker Green

Paul DeCamp is a member of the firm and co-chair of the national wage and hour practice group. A former administrator of the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, he represents employers and trade associations in complex and challenging wage and hour litigation, government investigations and counseling matters.

Gary D. Friedman, Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP

Gary Friedman is chair of Weil's nationally recognized employment litigation practice group, a first-chair trial lawyer, and trusted board counselor. He guides management through the full spectrum of labor and employment law matters, including high-stakes discrimination, wage and hour and trade secrets disputes, sensitive internal investigations and complex transactional-related issues.

Matthew Helland, Nichols Kaster PLLP

Matthew Helland is the managing partner of Nichols Kaster's San Francisco office. He represents employees in class and collective actions filed in California courts and across the country. Helland has developed a record of success at all levels of litigation, from individual arbitration hearings to appellate arguments.

Daniel Hutchinson, Lief Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein LLP

Daniel Hutchinson chairs Lief Cabraser's employment practice group. Daniel served as lead or co-lead counsel on cases that recovered more than $800 million for his clients in a variety of industries and across discrimination, unpaid wages, Employee Retirement Income Security Act, consumer protection and financial fraud cases.

Terry Johnson, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Terry Johnson is a labor and employment partner at Morgan Lewis & Bockius who defends employers in employment litigation, counsels on workplace and personnel matters and helps employers develop and implement effective workplace policies.

Alan Klinger, Stroock & Stroock & Lavan LLP

Alan Klinger, Stroock's co-managing partner and co-chair of the litigation group, represents parties in complex civil litigation and has a proven track record of achieving successful results, whether through negotiation or litigation. He also leads the firm's representation of public sector unions and employee benefits funds.

Randi May, Hogue Newman Regal & Kenney LLP

Randi May is a partner at Hogue Newman Regal & Kenney in New York representing a broad range of employers and executives in all aspects of employment law. Randi focuses her practice on counseling, litigation avoidance and workplace investigations as well as litigation when needed and desired.

Lawrence M. Pearson, Wigdor LLP

Lawrence M. Pearson is a partner at Wigdor LLP with more than 20 years of experience in employment law, including 10 years representing employees and 10 years exclusively representing employers. He received a B.A. in political science from The George Washington University and a J.D. from the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School.

Jennifer B. Rubin, Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo PC

Jen Rubin is a Mintz member who advises clients on complex employment issues and litigates employment cases. Her clients include startups, Fortune 50 companies and executives in the technology, financial services, publishing, professional services and health care industries. She also co-leads the firm's environmental, social and corporate governance practice group.

Amy Shulman, Outten & Golden LLP

Amy Shulman is a partner at Outten & Golden LLP and a member of the firm's executives and professionals practice group. She negotiates employment-related transactions on behalf of executives and professionals and represents employees in a broad range of workplace disputes, including whistleblower retaliation, compensation, discrimination, contract and international employment matters.

Amy Morrissey Turk, McGuireWoods LLP

McGuireWoods partner Amy Morrissey Turk's diverse legal knowledge positions her to provide valuable employment law insights. She offers clients a broad spectrum of experience gained both as a seasoned litigator for business-focused law firms and as assistant general counsel in charge of employment legal matters for a multibillion-dollar retail corporation.

Christine E. Webber, Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll PLLC

Christine E. Webber is a highly acclaimed employment and civil rights litigator at Cohen Milstein and has led some of the most significant discrimination and Fair Labor Standards Act class and collective actions in U.S. history. She also co-chairs the Class Action Committee at the National Employment Lawyers' Association, the nation's preeminent employee-side legal association.

---

All Content © 2003-2021, Portfolio Media, Inc.