

Law360's 2021 Immigration Editorial Advisory Board

Law360 (April 5, 2021, 7:03 PM EDT) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2021 Immigration Editorial Advisory Board.

The editorial advisory board provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of Law360's 2021 Immigration Editorial Advisory Board are:

Kimberly A. Clarke, Varnum LLP

Kim Clarke is partner and immigration attorney at Varnum LLP. She handles immigration planning, strategy and processes including nonimmigrant petitions, both employment- and family-based permanent residence applications, expatriation and foreign visa issues. She works with employers of all sizes, including Fortune 500 companies, colleges and universities and international businesses.

Susan J. Cohen, Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo PC

Susan Cohen is a nationally recognized immigration lawyer and founding chair of Mintz's immigration practice. She structures innovative and effective solutions for corporate clients to address their unique immigration challenges. She has contributed to federal and state immigration regulations, and promotes immigrants' rights through pro bono and social justice efforts.

Shannon A. Donnelly, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Partner Shannon Donnelly counsels clients on corporate immigration issues and provides legal and strategic advice related to the movement of global talent, global immigration policies, and compliance best practices. She works with clients to facilitate the mobility of key foreign executives and managers, specialized knowledge, and professional employees globally.

David Leopold, Ulmer & Berne LLP

David Leopold is the chair of Ulmer & Berne's immigration group and a former president of the American Immigration Lawyers Association. His practice focuses on immigration law, including business immigration, complex removal defense and federal litigation. He acts as a consultant to national immigration reform organizations and was a staff member on the Biden-Harris Transition Team's Immigration Policy Working Group.

Ian R. Macdonald, Greenberg Traurig LLP

Ian R. Macdonald focuses his practice on developing, assessing and managing global mobility programs for multinational companies on a range of challenges affecting the movement of people capital domestically and internationally, including secondment agreements, benefits transferability, local host country employment concerns and immigration.

Valarie H. McPherson, Proskauer Rose LLP

Valarie H. McPherson is a special immigration counsel and co-head of the immigration & nationality group. She represents companies from Fortune 500 to small and medium-sized entities in a variety of industries, public and private foundations and individuals with temporary and permanent visa applications, and immigration compliance.

Nandini Nair, Greenspoon Marder LLP

Nandini Nair is a partner in Greenspoon Marder's immigration and naturalization practice group. Nair has written a number of articles on immigration and lectured nationally on immigration issues. She was named by the New York and New Jersey Law Journal as an Immigration TrailBlazer in 2019 and 2020.

Michael Neifach, Jackson Lewis PC

Michael Neifach is co-leader of Jackson Lewis' immigration practice group and is office managing principal of the firm's Washington, D.C., region office. He has held senior immigration positions at the White House, Department of Homeland Security, and Immigration and Customs Enforcement, where he was principal legal adviser, 2007-2009.

Todd P. Photopulos, Butler Snow LLP

Todd Photopulos serves as the leader of Butler Snow's immigration practice, representing employers and entrepreneurs in all facets of U.S. immigration law and policy. Photopulos is a frequent lecturer at law conferences throughout the world and brings 24 years' experience helping clients navigate the U.S. immigration law landscape.

Brianna Pomatico, Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

Named a 2019 Law360 Rising Star, Brianna Pomatico has a track record of counseling both major and emerging multinational companies on innovative global workforce solutions. Pomatico is a member of Orrick's global employment and equity compensation team and her practice focuses on cross-border employment law, including immigration.

Michael Schewe, Peckar & Abramson PC

Michael Schewe practices all aspects of immigration law in all 50 states and has clients in various countries around the globe. He focuses his practice on corporate-business immigration and compliance, and consular processing and removal defense. Schewe regularly assists corporations, ranging from multinationals to U.S.-based businesses, with bringing talent to the U.S.

Nadia Yakoob, Nadia Yakoob & Associates

Nadia Yakoob has been practicing immigration law for over 20 years and works primarily with startups and tech entrepreneurs. She is a graduate of the Georgetown University Law Center where she was the editor in chief of the Georgetown Immigration Law Journal.
