Law360 (April 13, 2021, 5:56 PM EDT) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2021 Project Finance Editorial Advisory Board.

The editorial advisory board provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of Law360's 2021 Project Finance Editorial Advisory Board are:

Mona E. Dajani, Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP

Mona Dajani is an engineer, MBA and dual qualified lawyer in the U.K. and U.S., and Pillsbury's practice leader for energy & infrastructure projects, renewable energy, and sustainable finance. Her international practice includes project finance, corporate finance, M&A, portfolio acquisitions, tax equity, construction and/or restructuring for government and private clients.

Robert Eberhardt, Norton Rose Fulbright

Rob Eberhardt is a partner in Norton Rose Fulbright's New York office. His practice focuses on the U.S. power sector and includes a wide range of work involving renewable and conventional assets. Examples of recent work include offshore wind projects, merchant solar projects, wind repowerings, safe-harbor loans and proxy revenue swaps.

Michael Espinoza, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Michael Espinoza advises on energy transactions, with a focus on power, gas, regulated utilities and renewable energy. He represents clients on a variety of deals, including mergers, acquisitions and divestitures involving electric generating facilities, regulated electric and gas utilities, retail electric providers, and electric transmission facilities.

Oliver Irwin, Bracewell LLP

London-based partner Oliver Irwin advises lenders and sponsors on the development and financing of cross-border projects across a broad range of industries. He has significant experience advising on multi-sourced project financings involving export credit agencies, multilaterals and development finance institutions.

Jorge Kamine, Willkie Farr & Gallagher LLP

A partner in Willkie's corporate department and member of the Latin America group, Jorge Kamine's practice is focused on a range of transactions in the energy and infrastructure sector globally with an emphasis on debt and equity project financing, and structuring, acquisition, and divestment of investments across energy and infrastructure projects.

John J. Leonti, Troutman Pepper

John Leonti helps clients structure, negotiate, document and execute complex financial transactions in the energy sector, including tax equity transactions utilizing partnership and lease structures, debt transactions such as construction financing and long-term commercial and institutional debt financing, and hedge transactions using over-the-counter derivatives.

Audrey C. Louison, Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo PC

Mintz member Audrey C. Louison is co-chair of the firm's project development and finance practice. She advises clients — including developers, investors, owners, retail suppliers, contractors and technology providers — in connection with project development, project financing, project sales and acquisitions, and investment in renewable energy, as well as power markets and grid transition.

Amy Maloney, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Amy Maloney focuses on project finance and development, working with sponsors and financing sources, including commercial and investment banks, private equity funds, insurance companies, and other institutional investors.

Allan T. Marks, Milbank LLP

Allan Marks is a partner at Milbank LLP. He is one of the world's leading project finance lawyers, with deep expertise for over 30 years across many sectors: power and renewable energy, transportation, airports, rail, port terminals, water, oil and gas, social infrastructure, and telecommunications and digital infrastructure.

Mike Pikiel, Winston & Strawn LLP

Mike Pikiel has nearly 20 years of experience handling transactions for clients in the infrastructure, transportation, and energy sectors. He represents sponsors, developers, investors, lenders, and underwriters in a wide range of projects and complex finance transactions, including project financings and acquisition financings. He also has experience with public-private partnerships.

Martin Toulouse, Baker Botts LLP

Baker Botts partner Martin Toulouse focuses on limited recourse, structured and corporate financings, liability management transactions, and restructurings in the energy and infrastructure sectors. His clients include sponsors and corporate borrowers, credit funds and financial institutions.
